Yin Five Elements

Yin Fire:

Like a candle, you have the capacity to enlighten others. You are very charismatic and passionate in all you do, but you depend on others to survive.

Yin Earth:

Like mother earth, you are nurturing and fertile with ideas. You are the producer of ten thousand things. You can be confused at times.

Yin Metal:

Like a diamond or precious metal, like gold or silver. You are beautiful and elegant and you appreciate the finer things in life. You can be egoistical and vain.

Yin Water:

Like the fog, mist, or rain. You are mysterious, constantly moving and unpredictable. You are very subtle and refined. You cannot and should not work too hard.

Yin Wood:

Like grass or a vine. You are a connector, networker, who is flexible, efficient. You are able to climb to the top with the help of others. You can be secretive and smothering.

Yang Five Elements

Yang Fire:

Like the sun, bright and brilliant. You bring happiness and sunshine to others, and you like a routine. You can be self-centered.

Yang Earth:

Like the mountain, you are full of wisdom, very stable and fiercely independent. You can be stubborn.

Yang Metal:

Like a sword, sharp, and quick witted. You can easily create and follow systems. You are loyal and altruistic. Insensitive by nature, your words can be biting.

Yang Water:

Like the ocean, deep thinker, and very intelligent. You are very adaptive and can change characters from yin to yang and back again in an instant. You can be too forceful and overpowering.

Yang Wood:

Like a tree, steady growth, solid and sturdy. You are protective and create shelter for others. You can be territorial and don't like to move.

How to take a Compass Reading

Step 1

Stand in the middle of the building facing the street as a reference point. Stand parallel to the wall opposite and take the degrees

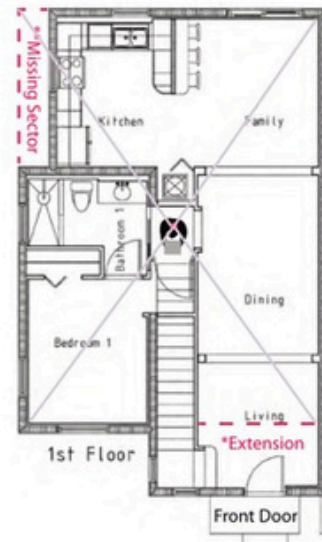

Step 2

On your floor plan – square the plan and make an X to find the center point. Take into consideration extensions* and missing Sector.

*An extension would be less than $\frac{1}{3}$ of the overall size of the side of the building you are analyzing.

A missing corner is over $\frac{1}{3}$ the overall size of the side of building you are analyzing.

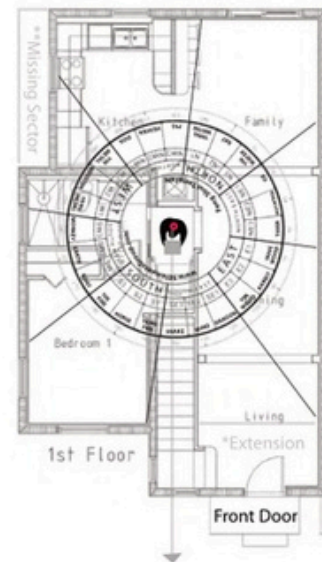

Step 3

Draw a line from the center to facing wall

Step 4

Superimpose the compass dial over the floor plan

Step 5

Now you are ready to Feng Shui!
